

Ewen Morrison

Ewen Morrison understands the importance of family.

Ewen is CEO of EMW Industrial, a business based in Saskatchewan, which will celebrate its 40th anniversary in 2010. EMW helps grain and fertilizer handlers maintain and upgrade their facilities. And the surprisingly thing about his business, is that of the 171 employees that work for the company, 28 of them are family. Ewen's wife Shirley works with him, as do his two brothers Joe and Ken, his son Scott, his son-in-law Al, and then there are a host of others from nephews to cousins, to more in-laws.

And let's not forgot the newest member of the Morrison clan and a possible future employee, Ewen and Shirley's little granddaughter, Abby Grace, born October 10th, 2007.

P.S. Keep your eyes peeled for Ewen and family zipping around in one of the 40 or 50 trucks he says he has bought over the years from Terry Ortynsky Royal Ford.
